Raw, buggy. Didn't get what I was expecting.. Played local coop and had a blast with it. A great little game to play with mates, 4 interesting game types with hopefully more to come

If you want to see what they game type are then check out the video below

<https://youtu.be/V4EoEokPe-UI>. This game has potential.

I know it's not supposed to be a "A" class game and all, but the blur and post processing covering the "poor modeling" is too much. Yes i know it was made to portray the drunkenness, but in my opinion it still too much.

I also had to play 2 or 3 times to understand the story. Maybe it's my English, maybe the history telling is not very well constructed. I don't know.

I think it needs to be polished a little more. But they are in the right track. Keep up! I'm willing to give a good recommendation in the next sequences!, idk wait until it's finished. terribel. text crap just go search up♥♥♥♥♥on google and youll have a better experience. Great puzzle game! Definatly worth the money!. In my eyes I would say this game Isn't that good because well... this game has a steam coupon for it \(now, I'm not saying all game with coupons are bad, but this one is kind of one of those bad games\). i don't like the gameplay and I can die very easily.. ART SQOOL is a really cute fantastic way to spend the afternoon. ART SQOOL gives you all the tools you need to be a truely great artist, provided you can find them first. Examples include: SQUIGGLE BRUSH, THICK BRUSH, RADICAL STAMPS, SHAPE TOOL. Never fear losing motivation, the beautiful campus of ART SQOOL provides you with surplus visual stimulation through its plethora of fine sculptures.

\(Secret tip: You can use the num pad to tilt your camera\). In-depth command doctrines \(each one gives you a completely different experience\)

Incredibly inventive. Extremely funny dialogue. A serious, even grim story underneath. Wonderful graphics. Sometimes hard to solve, but you are having too much fun to grumble.

When will we see The Inner World 3?. Great game! i really like it, sad thing is though, i have no friends that own this game to play co-op, the singleplayer alone gets pretty hectic and nearly impossible at times (i flew to enemy base without realizing that i didnt set a home marker and made it impossible to get back). Also, early game is a little difficult, the monsters have way too much health for the beginner weapon you start out with.. Well, This game looks pretty innovative however it is lagging. I have a GTX 1060 6GB, i7 7700k & having issues running this game. How it is possible tho, All graphic presets failed. I hope it will be fixed soon. Cheers. Got potential, obviously they are standing into each other and walking through tables but I like it. Creators, fix the standing into each other and walking into tables, give more of a tutorial rather than a read through about shopping and everything along with the make it yourself menu (It shouldn't really be telling you how to make your own recipe even if it is too sour or strong. Maybe instead you decide how much of the ingredient you want like pizza connection 3) then it'll be perfect for all gamers but specially the disabled as well. The reason I said disabled as well is because I am smart like an able bodied person but more of a learner by being shown what to do rather than reading and forgetting what I've just read, lol. But understand more if an arrow or pop up came. I found this helps even with my able bodied friends too not just me. Thanks. A fun little game, made by one person. It could need some polish but for a 2020 game this is absolutely fine. The music is lovely and the mentor's voice is really cool! You can use different spells to attack, heal, etc. You'll need to recharge those spells at different points in the arena-like environment, without getting caught by one of the monsters.

Passionate little games is what we need, both from developer and player side!. Gameplay amounts to purchasing units with slowly accumulating gold and placing them into a portal to spawn out into one of the available lanes. Units march down the lane and fight the enemies they run into. If they get to the end of the lane, they attack the enemy base. First base to run out of health loses.

This is a fine premise, and I could see a great game made off that base, but this one isn't it. I spent most of my time watching units march and accumulating a gold pile to pop out several units at once, and otherwise watched the fights. Most fights started you in the best high vantage point you were going to get; there is no top down view or flying available. You can teleport down among your units and look, but the models only really have one fighting animation each. This makes the fights inside the lanes look soulless and mechanical.

There isn't enough 'game' here to be fun, and it isn't lively enough to be eye candy either.
